JUST A WORD!

PHOTOGRAPHS are a luxury. You do not need them, but sometimes you want them and must have them. You do not want poor ones; you want the best. You should have them and be willing to pay a reasonable price for them. When you are sick you invariably send for a physician. You do not especially pay for the medicine he gives you, but for his knowledge and skill. Deal with your photographer in the same way. If you do not know who to try, consult your friends. Visit competitive studios. Examine carefully the work. Be willing to pay a reasonable price, and above all use good, unprejudiced judgment.
I have no fear of the results. I do not claim to be as good as the best in the United States. I claim to be the worth living to you while in my studio. Orders taken for all kinds of large work and satisfaction guaranteed.
